

AIR SERVICE PLANS RAID FOR RECRUITS

An air raid on young men in Washington is planned for the near future. Thousands of "bombs" will be dropped by scores of battle planes that will swoop over the city.

Those young men who are "wounded" by the bombs of literature will be recruited for an enlistment in the air service. The arrangements indicate heavy "losses" by the civilians.

Plans for the attack have been determined, but a definite date has not been decided.

Girl Gets Half Million For Showing Kindness To Old, World-Worn Man

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—This is the story of the girl who followed the rainbow, discovered the fabulous pot of gold, and now has found a husband.

Dorothy Bateman was the rainbow girl. On Wednesday she changed her name to Mrs. Horace P. Beck by marrying Dr. Beck, a physician, of Newport, R. I., and prominent in civic affairs. Miss Bateman, or Mrs. Beck, as she now is, was bequeathed $500,000 by the late Ross Winans. That was the pot of gold—and the rainbow; well, that was her life.

Catches World-Worn Eye.

It matters little that the rainbow girl was born in Newport, February 15, 1892, on the Bateman farm, as it is called, and spent her whole life there, or that the farm has been in the possession of her family since the Revolution, descending from eldest son to eldest son, in conformity with ancient English law.

But it does matter that she was obliging, self-possessed, and, above all, capable. For it was this capability, this independence, that caught the eyes of weary, worn-out Ross Winans, who had not a shred of an inheritance to cherish. The rainbow girl's thrifty father had built an addition to his ancestral homestead, and had let it be known that he would accommodate a few of Newport's wealthy summer visitors. Ross Winans became a guest.

There he saw the rainbow girl break out of the most unmanly and able and wildest colts on her father's farm; he saw her wield an oar when the fresh breezes in Narragansett Bay kicked up waves that threatened to capsize the dory; he saw her lead a hand in the field at harvest and accomplish as much as any of the men.

Rehears His Love for Horace.

The rainbow girl's love for blooded horses found an echo in Ross Winans' old heart, and an attachment was born and grew. It was not long before he was telling her stories of far countries and strange peoples while they were seated on a rock overlooking the sea. Then Mr. Winans' hand fishing piers built, and with the rainbow girl as his companion and both wrapped in olefin, they would stand on the end and angle for bass.

And another thing which appealed to Ross Winans' practical soul was the rainbow girl's adroit adjustment to circumstances. She would peddle farm produce among the rich of the city in the morning and in the afternoon, stylishly and tastefully dressed, she would drive her prancing, rubber-tired runabout over the same streets.

Brightened Old Man's Life.

In 1910 Ross Winans went back to the Bateman place. He was broken in health, that part of his family which was not dead was scattered over the face of the earth, and his spirit was bitter. Into his morose moods, the rainbow girl brought all his freshness, vitality, and bubbling spirits, and Ross Winans seemed to care for no one else; would seek no one else's society.

So when Ross Winans' will was read in 1912 it was learned that Dorothy Bateman, Newport, R. I., was heir to $500,000. But the rainbow girl was inconsolable; her friend and companion was gone, and the first thing she did with her pot of gold was to give $150,000 for the grandchildren of Ross Winans, whose father's property was in litigation with her little prospect of its being retained.

And, a few days later, the rainbow girl delivered the nursing milk to her customers.

See Features Characteristic.

Her photographs show her to have a broad, well-formed forehead; wide-spaced eyes, straight nose and mobile mouth. It shows a wealth of blond hair and a symmetrical figure. But it does not show that her eyes are very blue and that her skin has the texture of a child's overlaid with the tan of wind and sun.

People speak well of her husband. He belongs to several clubs, includ-

Catarrh Of the Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician.
Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, and stomach acidity. Can you call it indigestion when in reality the trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bileurated Magnesia in half a glass of water. The blood is purified and the stomach is cleansed. The blood is purified and the stomach is cleansed. The blood is purified and the stomach is cleansed.

BODY OF MISSING BALLONIST FOUND

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 17.—The body of Lieut. Edward J. Verheyden, Jr., aide to Capt. Carl W. Dammann, of the balloon Wichita, in the national open balloon race, has been found in Lake Huron, off Tobermory, Ontario, according to word received here today. No trace has been found of Captain Dammann.

The balloonists started from here October 1 in the national balloon race. They were not heard from since.

WIDOW DIES WITH PET CAT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Disconsolate and lonely, Margaret Himer, a widow, fifty-three years old, of Brooklyn, yesterday took her pet white cat in her arms, laid down on the kitchen floor of her home and turned on the gas. The bodies of the woman and her cat were found soon after by persons passing who detected the odor of gas.

MERCIER BECOMES CLEVELAND CITIZEN

Mayor Bestows Honor Given by City for First Time to a Nonresident.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17.—Cleveland yesterday paid homage to its newest citizen, Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium. Thousands of persons, including school children, clergymen, and city officials, braved a cold rain to join in the tributes.

The citizenship of Cleveland was conferred upon the prelate by Mayor Harry L. Davis. It is the first time that citizenship here has been bestowed officially upon a non-resident. Cardinal Mercier earlier in the evening had received $30,000 toward the reconstruction of Belgium. A check for $25,000 was the gift of a man who asked that his name be withheld, and $10,000 came from the Catholic churches of the Cleveland diocese. The other $1,000 was presented by an anonymous donor.

At a banquet at which he was guest of honor, Cardinal Mercier thanked Cleveland and America in behalf of Belgium for aid given the war-torn kingdom, and related his experiences during the war. Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France, presided.

Cardinal Mercier will remain here until tomorrow, when he goes to Toledo.

COMMITTEE CALLS UNITARIANS SLOW

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—Deprecating the fact that Unitarians had not thus far outlined any definite plan to aid in the solution of the present social and industrial problems akin to that of other large religious denominations, the industrial reconstruction committee brought in a report at yesterday's session of the general conference of Unitarian societies demanding the establishment of an industrial platform embodying the application of the spirit of democracy to industrial problems.

The report further proposed a permanent commission of the Unitarian churches and their activities toward a solution of the fundamental problems of America today.

EX-CLERGYMAN IS HUMAN JUNK HEAP

Dog Chain, Razor Blade, Nails, Screws, Etc., Fished From Stomach.

BOSTON, Oct. 17.—Discovery of a "human junk heap" was announced by officers of the House of Correction at Deer Island today. Charles W. Russell, of Montreal, serving a sentence of one year for forgery, complained of indigestion.

A surgical operation resulted in the recovery of two pounds of miscellaneous articles from his stomach. The collection, Dr. L. C. Rockwell said, included parts of a dog chain two feet long, a safety razor blade nearly whole, a suspender buckle and 175 fragments or pieces of glass, hay wire, staples, nails and screws. He lived of these substances, Russell almost entirely has recovered, it is said.

The prisoner had been accumulating the collection with suicidal intent, according to Dr. Rockwell, since last December. He had previously made a similar cumulative attempt to end his life, but it was frustrated by an operation performed in New York, he said.

Russell told the surgeons that he was a former clergyman, having held several pastorates in Canada, and had been convicted of worthless check operations in Michigan, New York, and New Jersey.
